

LEADERS OF COLOR (SF)

Sept 28, Nov 1, Jan 10, Mar 21, Apr 24 | The Bay School of SF

This program is an opportunity for educators of color to explore their leadership visions, opportunities, and aspirations within and beyond independent schools. For experienced, emerging and questioning leaders of color at all stages of their careers, this yearlong series will offer participants time and support to:

- Clarify their visions and goals as educators,
- Identify core leadership competencies and challenges,
- Design their own professional growth plans, and
- Network and build vital personal and professional relationships.

With the intention of knowing and sustaining ourselves in our careers, we will lean into case studies; reflect on our own experiences; talk frankly about the challenges, opportunities and expectations for leaders of color; recognize our personal growth edges; and drill down on the skills and knowledge we have and need to thrive on our diverse professional paths. Participants will have the opportunity to learn from guest educational leaders in and beyond the independent school community, who will share their own journeys and lessons learned as leaders of color.

Visit catdc_leadersofcolor2017.eventbrite.com to register!

FACILITATORS

STEVE MORRIS, is in his tenth year as the Head of the San Francisco School (SFS), a private, pk-8 school. He has been working as a teacher and administrator in independent schools for the past 20 years.

ALISON PARK, is the founder of Blink Consulting, and has been working with schools and educational access organizations for eleven years to critically rethink diversity and inclusion. Before Blink, Alison taught in the independent, public and community non-profit sectors for thirteen years.

QUESTIONS? Contact us at info@catdc.org

